

The Nature Playground

Wooden Marble Run – A Highlight for All Ages

The nature playground at the Sennhütte delights visitors with a special attraction: the Wooden Marble Run. This 25-meter-long track starts at the friendly cow "Senni" and offers fun for the whole family. As a special keepsake, visitors can take home the wooden marbles that roll down the track.

Fun, Play, and Refreshment Amidst Nature

The nature playground offers a variety of exciting experiences. In addition to the Wooden Marble Run, a water wheel invites play and exploration, while the Kneipp pool provides a refreshing break. For a unique perspective, visitors can climb up to the treehouse and enjoy the beauty of the surroundings from above. The little ones can let their creativity run wild on the diverse play equipment, ensuring endless fun.

Nature in Transition Trail and Herb Gardens

A particularly interesting part of the nature playground is the "Nature in Transition Trail," which engagingly demonstrates how nature adapts to climate changes. Numerous stations lead through the Wonder Forest, where visitors receive valuable tips on how they can contribute to environmental protection.

The Alpine flower and herb gardens are another highlight, especially for those interested in floral beauty and its uses. Weekly guided tours through the gardens offer in-depth insights and leave no questions unanswered. The sensational Mickey Mouse flower, the cola plant, and the football thistle are sure to amaze both young and old visitors along the WonderWanderTrail!

Opening Hours and Additional Information

Senn's WonderWanderTrail and the nature playground are open daily from early July to mid-September, from 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM. All attractions around the Sennhütte are free and open to the public. To help preserve the beauty of nature and the facilities, all visitors are kindly asked to treat the surroundings with respect. The Senn family's motto is: "Nature is for ALL of us!"
